International Health Research Workshop

The VCU Global Education Office, Office of Research, and Institute for Drug and Alcohol Studies (IDAS) are pleased to present an International Health Research Workshop on Monday, May 19, 2014.

This exciting event will feature discussions of funding opportunities for global health research, how to identify and address the challenges of international health research, and VCU’s international research initiatives and resources. Presenters will include representatives from USAID, the Centers for Disease Control, and the National Institutes of Health, as well as VCU researchers engaged in international research.

Location: 316 South 12th Street
Date: Monday, May 19, 2014
Time: 8:15 a.m. - 4:30 p.m.

For information about this workshop and to register, visit: global.vcu.edu/ihr.

This workshop is part of the second annual VCU Global Health Forum. The Forum is comprised of three events taking place throughout the 2013-14 academic year, each highlighting a distinct aspect of global health. Previous event in the series were held in October 2013 and April 2014.
